Services

Building Engineering Services Association (BESA) - is the trade association for heating, plumbing, air conditioning and solar PV contractors and is a TrustMark Scheme Provider.

Financial Protection

When you employ a BESA Trustmark registered member to install, replace, upgrade, extend or repair the heating or air conditioning system in your home, you will automatically be covered by the BESA Double Guarantee at no additional cost. You can even pass the remainder of the guarantee on if you sell your home.

- Comprehensive two-year guarantee covering workmanship, design, defective materials and deposit protection
- Further four years' protection against major damage to your home arising from the work
- If your BESA contractor fails to fulfil their contractual obligations, the BESA will step in and meet the cost of putting things right
- If the firm should become insolvent or bankrupt or goes into liquidation during the installation, BESA will arrange for the work to be completed at no additional cost to you.

The BESA Double Guarantee applies to domestic heating, plumbing, air conditioning and solar PV installations only with an installed value over £500 up to £50,000. It will be invalidated should any third party carry out work on the installation carried out by the BESA TrustMark registered trader.

The BESA Double Guarantee does not cover:

- Installed equipment (e.g. central heating boilers) covered by a manufacturer's guarantee
- Damage or defects caused by - sonic bangs, war, radiation, accidental, malicious and storm damage, alterations and modifications carried out at a later date to the works, previous defects discoverable by survey on sale or transfer of the property, wear and tear, normal dampness, condensation, mould, shrinkage, contamination, changes in the water table and risks insured by statutory or other insurance or financial protection arrangements
- Consequential or incidental losses, including professional and legal fees and alternative accommodation
- Designs and/or materials provided by the customer
- Work undertaken under an annual service contract
- Claim values under £250
